COMMUNITY AND FAMILY SERVICE

Associate of Applied Science

Make a difference in the lives of children and families living in our area. As a Community & Family Service graduate, you will work with expectant parents and parents of young children in their homes, helping families to understand their child's development and support parental/child attachment. Parents are a child's first and best teachers, and a graduate with this degree supports parental development by building on the family's strengths. Workers in this field will have specific and intentional roles in the following four activities/strategies areas:

- Promote and enhance the parent-child relationship
- Engage parents in discussions about their child's growth and development and provide parents information and opportunities to learn about concrete things they can do to promote their child's learning
- Encourage parents' involvement in the education of their child
- Facilitate the delivery of services to children and families through collaboration with community partners

JOB OPPORTUNITIES FOR 2-YEAR GRADUATES

Graduates will find employment with Early Head Start and Head Start or similar community agencies as a family advocate, home visitor, family service worker or family educator.

SALARY

Median income is currently slightly more than $30,000.

JOB OUTLOOK

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, jobs in this field will grow by 11 percent by 2024.

STUDENT ADVISEMENT

Students who are pursuing degrees or certificates leading to application for professional licensure or certification, and/or who will be participating in field experiences, internships, or practica through their program, should be aware that their host facility may require a criminal background check, finger printing, or drug screening. Although the College will make reasonable efforts to place admitted students in field experiences and internships, it will be up to the host facility to determine whether a student will be allowed to work at that facility.
