GENERAL MOTORS AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM (ASEP)

Associate of Applied Science

JOB OPPORTUNITIES FOR GRADUATES

Employment of automotive service technicians and mechanics is projected to grow about as fast as the average for all occupations.

As vehicles continue to become more sophisticated, more trained service technicians will be needed to do basic diagnostics, maintenance and repair. The increasing lifespan of late-model cars and light trucks will further increase demand for qualified workers.

With some employers reporting difficulty finding workers with the right skills and education, job opportunities for qualified applicants should be very good. Jobseekers who have completed formal postsecondary training programs—especially candidates with training in advanced automotive technology, such as hybrid fuel or computer systems—should enjoy the best job prospects. Those without formal automotive training are likely to face strong competition for entry-level jobs.

SALARY

The median annual wage for automotive service technicians and mechanics was $46,760 in May 2020. The median wage is the wage at which half the workers in an occupation earned more than that amount and half earned less.

ACCREDITATION

Owens General Motors ASEP is accredited by ASE (Automotive Service Excellence).

ASE examines the structure, resources and quality of training programs and evaluates them against standards established by the industry. These standards reflect the skills that students must master to be successful in the industry.

LOCATION

Toledo-area Campus

DEPARTMENTAL HIGHLIGHTS

- A strategic alliance between GM, GM Dealers and 66 selected colleges and universities
- Two-year Associate Degree Program-Advanced automotive technical training is combined with strong academic foundation in math, electronics and analytical skills
- Internship program. Students alternate between working at a GM dealer and going to college in 8-week intervals.
- Earn while you learn. While at the dealership or shop, students receive an hourly wage and are assigned to an experienced technician who guides and supervises their training

EMPLOYER TESTIMONIALS

The Owens ASEP program has been an important piece to our dealership success over the years. Finding qualified technicians can be an issue and Owens has helped us solve that problem. The students coming out of Owens hit the ground running and have been a true asset to our company.

Eric Scott, Perrysburg Auto Mall

I have been associated with the GM ASEP program since its inception. With the long-standing difficulties in obtaining technicians, the ASEP program has been a steady and reliable source for training and nurturing new technicians. I highly recommend the program as it is my primary source in obtaining service technicians. You can count on them getting trained by very qualified instructors that really care about their students. The instructors and the facility is top notch and prepares them for the real world. Again, I give this program and Owens the highest recommendation. There is no better preparation for working in a GM dealership than you'll receive at Owens.

Phil Tipton, Service Director, Dunn Chevy Buick

The GM ASEP program and Owens College gave me the knowledge and abilities necessary to achieve the automotive and mechanical expertise to become a successful technician and profitable business owner.
